Mary- I fear that if i send this to sylvia she may misunderstand it as needling, which i would not intend. therefore, if you see fit, when next you write her would you include your own retyping when you are in touch with her, please?

for those who might have the suspicion, i have checked and this is not the old address of INNOVATOR when KT was a contributing editor to it. it was in los angeles, but he then lived, as i recall, in arlington, va. i do not know his present address. the content of INNOVATOR is consistent with the quote under barkerson above. there it was billed as dedication to complete individual freedom.
